

Housing and Building National
Research Center

ICSCPM21
HBRC - EGYPT

Ministry of Housing, Utilities and Urban Communities

3rd International Conference
Sustainable Construction and Project Management

Integrated Management For Smart Cities

Prof. Ashraf Kamal

Professor of Urban Economic and Planning

Contacts

Arch and Housing Institute,
Housing and Building National
Research Center

+201222176762

ashrafkamal@yahoo.com,
ashraf.kamal@hbrc.edu.eg

Smart Economy workshop

Objective

- Introducing the concept of smart economy
- Components of smart economy
- How to approach a smart economy in developing countries
- What are the mechanisms to be adopted by smart economy concept?

Field of Experience:

Prof. Kamal has more than 33 years of experience in fields related to the following:

- 1) Practical Architectural design and implementation in a variety of scales and types of architectural and complex projects with "AI" influence on project design and automation,
- 2) Academic research in Strategic Planning, Participatory Urban Development, Community Design, Housing and Real Estate & Property business management,
- 3) Capacity Building and Training, as well as university teaching for both under and post graduate levels in many respected local and international universities,
- 4) Wide range of published working papers and researches,
- 5) Participated as an expert in urban economics, strategic planning with many international projects for distinguished entities.